

Press Release

Leading Edge Technology Company Moves to Downtown Naperville

NAPERVILLE, IL, NOVEMBER 30, 2005: SSS Research has moved their headquarters to 600 S. Washington Street in Naperville, Illinois. SSS Research Inc. is an emerging growth, leading edge technology, and software research and development firm. The Company was founded with the mission to improve the capability to analyze, visualize, and manipulate information. The Company has landed several government research contracts and has built technology and two products embodying the technology that help intelligence analysts manipulate, fuse, visualize, and evaluate information.

"The move to Naperville gives us the room to grow and the ability to attract very talented people from the surrounding area." said Ken Berbert, vice president of sales and marketing of SSS Research. "The move to Naperville allows us to be in the heart of the Research and Development corridor in DuPage County."

About SSS Research, Inc.

Founded in 2003 by Dr. Stephen G. Eick, SSS Research develop products and services that enable analysts to understand complex information sets and convert this understanding into better decisions. We design state-of-the-art systems for national defense, intelligence and other high priority government missions with increased emphasis on Homeland Defense, Intelligence Analysis, and Information Security. SSS Research is a leading provider of leading edge technology solutions to Global 1000 companies and the US government. For more information, visit <http://www.sss-research.com> or call 1.630.430.6832.

SSS Research Media Contact:

Ken Berbert      630-430-6832

ken.berbert@sss-research.com